Notes:

1. Each drill routine will be judged by a pre-determined team of judges familiar with drill and march to ensure a fair and high standard of judging.
2. The judges will tally the total score and will also make the final decisions if there are any questions.
3. The required movements listed above are in alphabetical order only and not the order that they need to be performed in. They are also the minimum to be done. Take the extra time and be creative when designing your routine, but use all of the above movements properly at least once to ensure full credit.
4. Prior to the start of your designated drill time, the Unit Commander will check in with the judges to be briefed.
5. The uniform inspection will be completed prior to the start of the drill portion.
6. For the uniform inspection, you will only be judged on the equipment that you have and will not be marked off for items that you may not have, such as a cover.
7. The judges may ask you to perform some of the movements more than once to determine if they were done correctly or for clarification purposes.
8. The completed scoring sheets will be returned to the Unit Commander once the competition is complete
